READERS OF CONDÉ NAST TRAVELLER VOTE THE FULLERTON HOTEL SINGAPORE 8TH BEST IN THE WORLD

SINGAPORE, September 12, 2006: The Fullerton Hotel Singapore announced today that it has clinched the 8th highest spot in the Overseas Business Hotels category of the Condé Nast Traveller (UK) Ninth Readers' Travel Awards 2006. It is the second time in two years that the luxury hotel has been voted amongst the top 10 in the world, having been ranked 8th in the Overseas Leisure Hotels category last year.

Rated on 10 different criteria, the 400-room luxury hotel located in Singapore's Central Business District scored highly for its dynamic location. Nestled by the Singapore River, it is within minutes to the main shopping belt and some of the city's finest cultural venues, ensuring utmost convenience for both business and leisure travellers.

"It is a prestigious honour to once again be recognized by Condé Nast Traveller UK's readers. We believe in the continuous innovation of our facilities and services to meet the needs of today's traveller. Guest recognition and personalised experiences now matter more than ever," said Louis Sailer, General Manager, The Fullerton Hotel.

An annual poll, the Condé Nast Traveller Readers' Travel Awards questionnaire asked readers to name what they regarded as the best travel destinations, tour operators, hotels and travel-related providers; rating each choice based on a list of criteria, out of a maximum of 100 points. Based on the average score of each criterion, an overall satisfaction percentage figure and subsequent rankings were created. The results, published in the October 2006 issue of the publication, can be found online at <http://www.cntraveller.com/ReadersAwards/2006/>.
